WHAT SETS US APART

At Pathlight Preparatory, your child is never “just another student falling through the cracks and being overlooked.” Each student is an important member of our supportive collaborative academic community, and his or her intellectual growth and moral development as a well-rounded human being is a shared responsibility we all embrace. With that commitment in mind we have elected to constantly strive to foster positive collaborative relationships and inspire students to support those values which are fundamental to classical education and critical thinking, including: the pursuit of independence and self-mastery, respect for oneself and others, empathy, kindness, humility, development of a positive work ethic and a passion for life-long learning.
